Ten Lost Years.

Figure it for yourself. From the age of fifteen to that of forty-five a woman gives one-third of her time to the suffering incident to the recurring periodic function. Ten years of suffering! And this condition of things is popularly accepted as natural, and endured as a feminine disability for which there is no help! Is there no help? There is help for every woman and for almost every woman perfect healing in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It insures regularity, drives the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a temperance medicine—non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"I was so weak I did not have breath to walk across my room," writes Miss Isabel Miller of New Providence, Calvary Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage would be prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I also had spells which the doctor said were fainting fits. I did not gain strength from one monthly period to another; was very weak and nervous all the time. Was confined to my bed for three months and the doctor told me I would never be any better. I lived in this way from sixteen years old to twenty-three. I was at last advised by a kind friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and before I had taken ten bottles of it I could work all day. I took in all six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and about five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I used no other medicine. I have never had a return of this trouble since."

"THE REAL LINCOLN."

A small pamphlet of sixty-six pages with the above title, has recently appeared from the pen of Dr. Chas. L. C. Minor, of Baltimore, which is so entirely at variance with the common estimate of its subject, that, if its conclusions are true, it should herald a revolution in the popular estimate of Mr. Lincoln.

The writer of this notice belongs to a generation whose fathers fought against the principles represented by Mr. Lincoln, and yet he has got an idea of the "great emancipator" that, at least has allowed him to look with respect on those who regard the "War President" as a man typical of strenuous America. While the writer has had no patience with the hysterical hero-worshippers who have deified this man, yet he has been taught to regard him as a noble exponent of the union lying ideas of a great body of the American people. This is true of most Americans, and of many young southerners who think their fathers were right, but that the past is now passed and that quing a part of the United States. It is the duty of every section to forget it—a right conception of duty, in so far as it applies to our living together in harmony in the present, and to our future duty to our common country.

When a religious paper holds up a man as a model for young men of today it is eminently proper that such paper should select a man fit to hold such a position. But when such a paper is so impregnated with ignorance of historical facts it must be due to some conscious or unconscious perversion of facts on the part of those who know. And so we must regard as something of a revolutionist a man who will undertake to prove that the world's estimate is wrong. And such a man is Dr. Minor, who, in no way touching on Mr. Lincoln's ability or statesmanship, presents the man as contemporaries knew him and as history and America do not know him.

Dr. Minor discards in his preface any purpose to foster ill-will, nor is there anything in his "The Real Lincoln" that should do so. Every statement is made on the authority of Mr. Lincoln's biographers and eulogists, the reference is given with number of page, so that anyone disposed to do so can with ease find in any good library ample verification for what Dr. Minor says. Of these biographers who furnish the material for Dr. Minor's estimate of Mr. Lincoln a mere mention should be sufficient to convince, for of them are Lemon and Herndon, intimate associates of the President throughout his life; his cabinet ministers, Seward, Chase and Stanton, besides Richard Dana, Edward Everett and many others.

Dr. Minor's booklet is divided into heads, a reference to a few of which will give the purpose of this notice. Remember that all the questions are answered by Lincoln's own biographers and eulogists—"Was Lincoln Heroic?" "Was Lincoln a Christian?" "Lincoln's Jokes and Stories." "Estimates of Lincoln" by his associates. "Method by which 'Disloyalty' was Suppressed" in north and west.

From answers to these and other questions Dr. Minor's conclusions are necessary. He certainly was not a man or a Christian paper to hold before young men to be imitated. There is added to the booklet a complete list of authorities consulted, with a biographical note on each, answering before it can be asked the question of prejudice. But these men furnish the proof of every statement made.

Prof. Lyon G. Tyler, of William and Mary, in a brief essay occupying the last six pages of the book, dealing with Mr. Lincoln's public acts, which calls attention freely to the real man as contrasted with the Lincoln of fiction, or U. S. history. Edited by Kate Mason Rowland and published by the Everett-Wadley Co., Richmond, Va., we have here a most valuable contribution to history, which should have a place on every reader's table, and which will, when it is read, open many thousands of eyes throughout the world.

A Very Remarkable Remedy. "It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore, and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever.' Sold by Richard Gibson, druggist.

IN ALL STAGES of Nasal Catarrh there should be cleanliness. As experience proves, Ely's Cream Balm is a cleanser, soothes and healer of the diseased membrane. It is not drying nor irritating, and does not produce sneezing. Price 50 cents at druggists or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York. Upon being placed into the nostrils it spreads over the membrane and relief is immediate. It is an agreeable cure.

Mr. W. J. Baxter, of North Brook, N. C., says he suffered with piles for fifteen years. He tried many remedies with no results until he used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and that quickly cured him.

CORBY'S MOTHER'S BREAD

IS THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

The Corby process of mixing the dough puts 22 per cent more gluten in "Mother's Bread."

In a recent interview Mr. Corby gave the following explanation of how this was accomplished: "Chemists have found that flour does not contain gluten in the flour state, but there are two proteins called 'glyaden' and 'glutenin,' which, when hydrated into the dough mass, from gluten in the dough, and by the ordinary method in use and the hand manipulation it has been impossible to develop all the gluten, until we brought out our new patented dough-making machine and process.

This machine and process absolutely brings every particle of the glyaden and glutenin together, which is the only possible way of forming the gluten.

It is the presence of gluten which makes "Mother's Bread" so healthful—so nutritious and so wholesome." Sold by all grocers
